His Majesties

MOST GRACIOUS

SPEECH

To both Houses of

PARLIAMENT,

On Wednesday the 24th day of February, 169½.

LONDON,

Printed by Charles Bill and the Executrix of Thomas Newcomb, deceas'd; Printers to the King and Queens most Excellent Majesties. 169½.

His Majesties

MOST GRACIOUS

SPEECH

To both HOUSES of PARLIAMENT.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I Return My hearty Thanks to you all for the great Demonstrations you have Given Me of your Affections in this Sessions, and of your Zeal for the Support of the Government.

And I must Thank you Gentlemen of the House of Commons in particular, for the Great Supplies you have Granted for the Prosecution of the War. I Assure you I shall take Care so to Dispose of the Money you have Given Me for the Publick Occasions, as that the whole ~~Nation may be entirely Satisfied~~ with the Application of it.

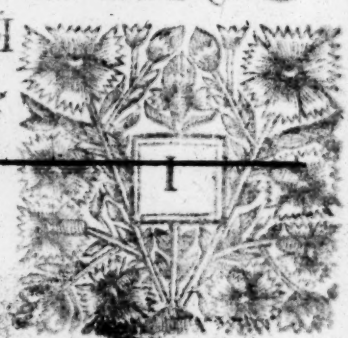
My Lords and Gentlemen,


I Think it proper to Acquaint you with My Intentions of going beyond Sea very speedily, which I am Afraid have been already Retarded, more then is convenient for the present Posture of Affairs; And upon that Account I Think it Necessary to put an End to this present Meeting. The Season of the Year being now so very far Advanced that it may prove of the last ill Consequence to Continue it any longer.